

Greetings team,

To prepare for the press release please see attached data sheets and newly updated images of the MOON turning into chocolate.

We recommend that NASA set up an export trade of chocolate from the Moon to Earth with urgency before Russia, and China get there.

We will be sending a team of astronauts to the Moon to bring back the first sample of chocolate for tasting tests. Please view the entire conference at 4 pm for the latest details about the chocolate tasting tests as we should have new results to share.

Secret lunar chocolate sampling mission trajectory DO NOT SHARE DO NOT SHARE DO NOT SHARE

We will also be getting samples from a giant chocolate teapot. By a remarkable coincidence this will fly past the Moon week before the press conference. The expedition will take the opportunity to sample the chocolate teapot on the return mission.

images courtesy of NASA

